

BUSINESS MINOR

A minor in Business Administration complements any major by adding core business knowledge that will help students succeed in their chosen field of study. Possessing an appreciation of fundamental business principles is an essential component of long-term financial and professional success. Business impacts everyone - regardless of what they may choose to study or where they may ultimately work. From Teaching to Biology and from Dance to Psychology, every major and its related industries require an understanding of business principles. Whether you are doing your own taxes, managing people, following your dream of owning a small business or just running your household finances, this minor will help you accomplish your goals.
